THE RETURN OF THE LOONIE: A NEW WELCOME

We're baaaack! After a year off to reorganize, restructure and revitalize our sponsoring club (note that the New York Science Fiction Society – the Lunarians (2), Inc. now sports a subscript), the Lunacon 2016 will take place the weekend of March 18-20, 2016 at the luxurious and spacious Hilton Westchester (affectionately known as the Escher Hilton) in Rye Brook, NY, in the scenic Hudson Valley, just a short, accessible ride north of New York City.

The Lunacon Force awakens to offer you once more the activities and events that you've come to expect at our gathering – fascinating Program panels and readings, a top-notch Art Show, a spectacular Masquerade, an enchanting Regency Dance, melodic Filking and Concerts, fantastic Gaming, dazzling Animé, a comfy Con Suite, a winning Books And More Exhibit, a tempting Dealers Room, and much, much more. As always we strive to improve upon what we've done in the past and to present innovative, new ideas. We haven't been idle during our hiatus!

If you have any questions or comments, or would like to volunteer, please feel free to contact us at information@2016.lunacon.org or at our Post Office Box address. We look forward to seeing you at Lunacon 2016.

GUESTS OF HONOR

This year's mix of notable Guests from across the spectrum of science fiction, fantasy and alternate history is sure to enthrall and delight and entertain and enlighten you.

Robert J. Sawyer, a Canadian Homo sapiens, is the author of 23 novels. In his prolific career, he has earned numerous awards for his work, including the Nebula, Hugo and Campbell Memorial Awards, and the Prix Aurora. He received the Hugo for Best Novel in 2003 for Hominids (the first volume of his Neanderthal Parallax trilogy) and the 1999 Prix Aurora for his time-travel thriller Flashforward, which was the basis for a television series on ABC. His latest novel Quantum Night is slated for release on March 1, 2016, just in time for you to buy it, read it and bring it to the Con for autographing. We are pleased and proud that Rob has agreed to come to Lunacon as our Guest.

Rick Sternbach was awarded the Hugo for Best Professional Artist in 1977 and 1978, and an Emmy in 1981 for his work on the original Cosmos, hosted by Carl Sagan. He is perhaps best known, though, for his work on three Star Trek® spinoff series – Star Trek®: The Next Generation, Star Trek®: Deep Space Nine and Star Trek®: Voyager – where he helped define the look of the 24th century. Most recently, he's lent his efforts to the upcoming Star Trek®: Renegades web series. Other well-known projects of his are the films The Last Starfighter and Solaris. In addition, he is a co-founder of the Association of Science Fiction and Fantasy Artists (ASFA). We take special pleasure in bringing him back home to Lunacon as our Guest.

Naomi Novik, winner of the John W. Campbell Award for Best New Writer in 2006, is author of the Téméraire series, the first book of which, His Majesty's Dragon, was a Hugo finalist and winner of the 2007 Compton Crook Award. Her most recent novel, Uprooted, was released last May and has been optioned for a feature film. The final Téméraire novel, League of Dragons, is expected to be released later this year.

As a special treat, Lunacon 2016 will be presenting the Filk group The Murder Ballads. Revel in songs from their debut album, Pretty in Scarlet (and take the opportunity to buy your own copy of “The Ballad of Captain America’s Disapproving Face”), and be enchanted by the ballad that’s been knocking them (proverbially) dead, “White Stag.” Those who just heard Adam and Catt perform at Philcon 2015, where they were Musical Guests of Honor, won’t want to miss their concert at Lunacon, and those who’ve never experienced their energy are sure to become fans of these murderous balladeers. Join us and sing along!

PROGRAMMING AND EVENTS

Our Guests of Honor are just the beginning of what our Program has planned. We’ve assembled a wide and diverse assortment of leading figures in the genres of science fiction, fantasy, horror, comics and alternate history, along with knowledgeable folks from the art world, publishing, costuming, filksinging, gaming, computers, the sciences, and Fandom as well. You’ll find an abundance of activities and events on our many tracks of programming – panels, workshops and demonstrations covering just about every topic and interest imaginable as well as readings, speeches and multimedia presentations. Our theme for this year’s Program is Science AND Science Fiction. Along with our other usual panels, we’ll feature a plethora of topics for children & adults on current and future science – today’s science fiction, tomorrow’s science.

As part of this theme, for the first time ever, Lunacon is presenting a Maker Track. We’ll be featuring fascinating speakers and cutting-edge technology, including a speaker from the NY Lego Users Group giving a presentation on Lego Mindstorms (everything is awesome!), another from the Enable Community Foundation, which provides 3-D printed prosthetics for children and adults in underserved locations around the world, giving a demonstration of 3-D printing, and a presentation on the selection of maker processor boards, covering hardware, software and different applications, with more surprises at the Convention! We’re also planning a Maker program just for kids (see below).

It all starts Friday night with our “Meet the Pros” event. Plus there are our hugely popular Regency Dance, and the Masquerade, two long-standing traditions at Lunacon. (If you hate having to choose between two or three terrific things going on at the same time, well, we can only apologize. But we’re not totally heartless – we’re leaving you breaks for lunch and dinner, and for sleep, whatever that is.)

Suggestions for programming items are always welcome. Send them to the Convention’s POB marked Attn: Programming or to program@www.lunacon.org

CHILDREN’S PROGRAMMING

It’s the usual fun and games plus for the next generation, plus our Guests of Honor and invited Program participants will be doing some special stuff just for kids. Check your Pocket Program for details. (Note: Children’s Programming is NOT babysitting. Also, see below under Registration for policies specifically related to children under 6.)

REGENCY DANCE

The ballroom will overflow once again with elegance and grace and the movement of happy celebrants whimsically re-creating the dances of the English Regency (about 1800), the era of Jane Austen, of Napoleon, and of Téméraire. It’s scheduled for Friday night at 9 pm, so you’ll have time to get to the Convention, get settled and don your dancing shoes. Period costumes (gowns and ruffled shirts) are often seen, but not required. Watch, learn and join in the fun!

MASQUERADE

Saturday night at Lunacon means the Masquerade. Let your imagination soar! Bring to life your favorite character from sf, fantasy, anime, or bring to life your own original creation. Or join the audience – it’s almost as much fun to be a spectator.

The Masquerade, as usual, will be run on a Skill Division system. We start off with a Young Fan Division (13 years old and younger) followed by costumers at Novice, Journeyman, and Craftsman/Master levels. Judging is by a panel of experts in the field of costuming. Photographs will be taken and available for purchase on Sunday. There will also be costuming-oriented Program items during the Con.

Hall Costume Contest:

Hall costumes are highly encouraged at Lunacon and awards are given. If you wish your hall costume to be judged, please stop by the Masquerade registration table. Feel free while you are there to sign up for Saturday night’s Masquerade. Please be aware that nudity is NOT a costume, and if your costume is a bit too revealing, we ask that you cover yourself in public areas of the hotel, including the lobby, hallways, restaurants, bar and the assembly areas in front of the ballrooms.

Weapons:

Anyone considering wearing a weapon as part of a hall costume is warned that for any violation of the rules, you will be asked to remove the item from the event. Use good judgment. Even if it complies with the rules, if it is unsafe or would reduce others’ enjoyment (e.g., scabbards that extend far enough to be a trip hazard to passersby), please don’t wear it. When in doubt, ASK!

We define weapons to include real weapons, facsimile weapons, anything actually used as a weapon, and anything that might reasonably be surmised to be a weapon. We will have Event staff to assist with enforcement of this.

Weapons rules for hall costumes are as follows:

No projectile weapons (whether it projects a solid, liquid, gas, or energy).

No replicas of any current or historical firearm are permitted. (A phaser is acceptable, a space marine’s assault rifle isn’t.) Working bows are, unfortunately, included with the above. (Sorry, Katniss.) All edged weapons (“live steel”) must be peace-bound and incapable of being drawn. Weapons may not be drawn in any public area of the convention.

Staves, canes and non-working replicas (boffer or cardboard swords, etc.) do not need to be peace-bound per se, but must adhere to the same guidelines as edged weapons.

These rules also apply to costumes included as part of the Masquerade competition unless specifically authorized beforehand by the Masquerade Director for use during the Masquerade. Please check our website (www.lunacon.org) for further details.

Photography:

There is no flash photography outside of designated areas, and all photography and audio/videotaping requires the permission of the individual(s) or group being photographed. Again, please check our website (www.lunacon.org) for further details.

FILK

Singing of sf/fantasy, media, deep space and medieval times, Filk is Fandom’s own folk music. Songs may be silly or serious, borrow existing tunes or have original ones, and be performed as solos and sing-alongs. And even if you don’t join in, the mini-concerts are sure to entertain and amuse. Traditionally, nightly filksinging goes on into the wee small hours (or 3 am, whichever comes first), and our program offers both open filking and bardic circle. Besides panel discussions and workshops, the musical side of Lunacon 2016 will be enlivened by a performance by The Murder Ballads.

FILM AND ANIMÉ

Once again, we’ll be presenting some of the latest in Animé (Japanese Animation) along with old favorites. All Japanese language videos will either be dubbed or have running commentary by a narrator. Check your Pocket Program for the play list and schedule once you get to the Con.

Our nostalgic favorite Vintage Film and Video Screening Room returns, with film archivist Movie Mike at the projector. Thrill to the World Premiere of Mission to Mongo, Mike’s new, seamless 3-hour, 16mm (yes, real film) cut of the serial Flash Gordon Conquers the Universe. Plus he’ll feature a Leonard Nimoy Memorial Tribute, including the Star Trek episodes “City on the Edge of Forever” (by Harlan Ellison) and “Amok Time” (by Theodore Sturgeon), In Search of: UFOs (from the TV show he hosted) and a feature cut of the serial Zombies of the Stratosphere (with a young Nimoy as one of the Martian invaders battling rocketman Commando Cody, his first turn as an alien). (Live long and prosper.) Selected other gems will be shown by video projector.

The Screening Room will also host a panel on the subject of “Female Empowerment Stories and Characters” in sf movies, literature, comics, serials, animé and pulp, followed by related film and video screenings: a Wonder Woman episode on film, a DVD of the female-driven Rocky Jones, Space Ranger story “Crash of Moons,” and more. In addition, we’ll present a slide-show talk by Bob Bulko on future war fiction, 1880s-1920s, chockfull of politically-incorrect stereotypes and ridiculous technology, titled “Long Before Steampunk.”

ART SHOW & PRINT SHOP

The Lunacon Art Show has long been hailed as one of the highest quality science fiction convention Art Shows around, displaying the finest works by professional and amateur artists alike. And while the Art Show features stellar artists every year, this year we’re featuring works from an artist who is literally stellar, our Artist GoH Rick Sternbach, famed and honored for his astronomicals. As usual, we will have a multitude of panels of original art, as well as tables for 3-D artwork, plus a Print Shop, where multiple copies of less expensive reproductions of those originals you can’t quite afford just yet are offered for sale. Original art pieces receiving 5 written bids will go to voice auction Sunday afternoon. Whether you bid on a stunning original or take home a professional print, there’s something to suit any taste ... or price range.

BOOKS AND MORE EXHIBIT

Throughout the weekend, we’ll spotlight the best that science fiction and fantasy publishers large and small have to offer in books and related items. You’ll also find on display e-books, magazine subscriptions, roleplaying games and computer software. In fact, our Exhibit is so wide-ranging that we’ve renamed it the “Books and More Exhibit.”

And you have a chance to win hundreds of dollars’ worth of it all! Sunday afternoon, all of the books (and more) generously donated by publishers will be raffled off to benefit the Lunarians’ Scholarship Fund, and all you have to do to win is buy a ticket. Buy a bunch of tickets for more chances to win a bundle of goodies. Then join us at the Raffle, which some consider an entertainment highlight of the Con and which has been immortalized in at least one novel. (And Seth thought it was safe to move back to New York.)

When you support our Raffle, you’re enabling the Donald A. and Elsie B. Wollheim Memorial Scholarship to help beginning sf and fantasy writers from the New York Metropolitan area attend the Clarion, Clarion West and Odyssey Writers Workshops. Since it began, the Fund has provided partial scholarships to four dozen aspiring writers, several of whom have gone on to be nominated for and to receive awards in the genre.

GAMING

Gaming at Lunacon is better than ever! This year we have over 200 games covering all genres, and for every taste from horror to humor, and fantasy and sf to simulation. We’ll be bringing you new hit games like Five Tribes, Manhattan Project, Dead of Winter, Codenames and Batman Fluxx, and returning favorites like Ninja Burger, Werewolves of Miller’s Hollow, Settlers of Catan (a Lunacon tradition!), 7 Wonders, Carcassone, Splendor and Shadows over Camelot. Or, in tribute to Terry Pratchett, you can come play The Witches, Ankh-Morpork or Guards, Guards on Saturday afternoon.

And on top of playing great games, you can win awesome prizes. One featured event will be a “Play to Win” tournament of the strategic game The Manhattan Project. The “Men in Black” will be in attendance, giving out prizes at Steve Jackson Games events. Magic the Gathering® fans will be able to test their skill in a full set of tournaments including draft and constructed deck events

We even have plenty of family friendly games for the younger fan. We’re always open, so come in and check out a board game, card game, or RPG.

CON SUITE

The Convention Hospitality Suite (but almost no one calls it that) is the place to relax and unwind from the hustle and bustle, to rest your weary bones, and sip, snack and schmooze with old friends and new ones. We’ll have the usual assortment of food, drinks and munchies. On Sunday morning we hope to offer our traditional New York-Style breakfast of cream cheese and bagels. We’ll try to have ingredient labels for all edibles on hand for those with special dietary concerns. (But please keep in mind that refreshments are not a substitute for proper meals.) The Con Suite will be closed from 2-8 am for cleanup.

Parties:

As Con activities slow down for the night (and often before), some attendees and groups host open parties to which all con-goers are invited. Check the Party Board and the At-Con Newszine as well as flyers posted around the Con for times and locations. Parties MUST register in advance with Convention Operations, regardless of whether they are open or closed, and MUST be held only in the designated "Active Floor" room block. Alcoholic beverages may not be served at open parties. (Note: The legal drinking age in the State of New York is 21.) When making your Hotel reservations, please indicate if you want a room on a "Quiet" or "Active" floor.

AT-CON SERVICES

Need help, information or have a question? The Member Services table is the place to go. You can check the message boards or post a message, get travel info, drop off copy for the Newszine, coordinate handicapped services, or find out what you need to know about the Con. If they can't help you, they'll direct you to someone who can.

Our At-Convention Newszine is the place to check for the latest program changes, open party listings, and any other Con-related information. Copies will be available at spots throughout the Con.

The Lunacon Operations Office (or the Office or Con Ops) is the operational center of the Convention, and also the base of Lunacon Security and the Lost and Found. You may leave copy here for the Newszine, report problems, or leave messages for Committee members.

Convention Sales:

Getch'yer Lunacon 2016 T-shirt here, featuring art by the incomparable Rick Sternbach, Books and More Raffle tickets, and past year's Program Books. (We recently moved our Storage Room and are still inventorying. Indy Jones, where are you?)

Other Fan Groups:

A number of tables will be made available (on a first-come basis) to bids, and other cons and clubs for promotional purposes only (no sales). Anyone desiring to reserve a table should contact us. Plus we'll again have a freebie table for flyers.

STAFF

This entire Convention is run solely by volunteers. We depend on people like you to help make Lunacon a success. Help is needed on Thursday prior to the Con's opening, during the Con and on Sunday for tear-down and move-out. Volunteers get to visit the Staff Den to grab a meal and relax for a bit, and can earn a Staff T-shirt (featuring art by Rick Sternbach) and/or a rollover membership in Lunacon 2017 (which is already in the planning stages), depending on the hours worked. And, of course, you'll also get our heartfelt thanks. If interested in helping, check the appropriate box on the Registration form or contact us at volunteers@2016.lunacon.org or at any of the addresses in this brochure.
